Rocks & Minerals

Unearth the excitement of rocks and minerals! Our passionate geologists, Jessica Liggett and Tiffany Playter, will reveal simple tests for identifying mineral properties and classifying rocks. They'll share the dirt on making earth science easy and engaging. *Note: $20 from this workshop goes toward a classroom demonstration kit filled with hand-picked samples and tools for classification.

Building & Testing

Are your students ready to solve real-world design challenges? Build confidence in guiding them through the engineering process and creating a fair test. Join Ed Kusmirski, a passionate engineer and educator, as you explore shapes, materials and construction techniques for building structures with strength and stability.
